CANNOT PICK UP
FARES IN TRENTON*Trenton City Commissioners Vote Down Amendment to Ordinance*ATTORNEY APPEALS*Says Ruling is Illegal, As Only Congress Can Restrict

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 4.—An amendment to the city tax ordinance which would permit Morrisville cabs to pick up passengers here who were returning to Morrisville has been defeated. Two weeks ago the three commissioners who opposed the ordinance this time voted for it. Mayor Connolly and Commissioner Kieker and Geraghty opposed it.

James A. Waldron, an attorney representing both the Morrisville Taxi Company and a group of Morrisville residents, tried to persuade the commissioners to adopt the amendment. He said the present ordinance, which prohibits Morrisville cabs from coming to Trenton to take passengers back to Morrisville, was illegal. Only Congress has the right, he declared, to place restrictions on interstate commerce.

Morrisville taxis now can bring passengers into the city but cannot take them back. Waldron said many residents who come across the river in a cab would like to tell the same driver to stop back for them when they are ready to return.

Morrisville cabs have a fixed rate of 70 cents for a trip to any point in Trenton. City cabs, on the other hand, charge "whatever the traffic will bear" when they take people back to Morrisville. He said Morrisville residents have often been charged as much as $1.50 for a trip across the river.

Samuel A. Naples, who headed the opposition to the taxi amendment, said accusations that Trenton cabs charge $1.50 for a trip to Morrisville was "a lot of nonsense."

Bristol's playgrounds closed the second season yesterday. The equipment is being dismantled and stored for the winter.

The season now ended has been very successful with the attendance showing considerable of an increase.

The increase in popularity this year undoubtedly was due to the added number of attractions such as see-saws, swings for small children, quitoes, horseshoes, an additional tennis court, basketball, touch ball, and softball.

Additional benches were placed in the park area and these were put to use often by mothers who wanted to be close by while their young children were enjoying the attractions.

The cadet corps used the park for drilling purposes and the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association conducted its first annual casting tournament in which 110

With the phenomenal growth in aviation since World War II, due to a great extent to the "Q. I." interest in flying, lower Bucks county is dotted with airfields, and with Bristol as the hub, there are located six fields within a radius of eight miles, accommodating 150 planes.

The planes are used for charter flights, crop-dusting, individual pleasure, business trips and instruction. According to figures given The Bristol Courier by field managers, there are several hundred persons receiving instruction in flying.

The landing strips are of three types—hard-surface, turf and cinder. Mechanic service is available at all of the fields. All fields have hangars, some housing a number of air-craft, and at some fields there being located many individual T-type hangars.

Crop dusting is carried on from two of the fields; charter and short pleasure flights are available from five; at five fields instruction is given, while at one of the fields planes are re-built.

Most of all of the 'planes are owned by Bucks countians, although a few of those listed as owners reside in nearby Philadelphia and Mercer county, N. J.

BRITAIN'S EXPORTS

The desperate effort of Great Britain since the war to balance her imports with exports is beginning to show results. It is necessary to discount the face value of the fact that British exports in July "reached the highest level in the long history of this trading nation." That of course is in terms of pounds or dollars worth much less than they once

What marks Britain's real triumph is the fact that the gap between imports and exports is steadily narrowing. In July the value of imports was 185,000,000 pounds, of exports 145,000,000 pounds. The difference is still substantial. But a year ago the British were 75,000,000 pounds shy of matching what went out with what came into their country.

Both importing and exporting are increasing. The standard of living would increase if the curve of exports should rise up to and pass above the curve of imports.
The hope for United Kingdom prosperity is that some day she may again make a profit from her labors. The western world may devoutly hope she can. In this hope there is realization that Britain is a keystone in western survival in the face of the Russian menace.

LIFE BEGAN TO FALL

Benjamin F. Carlin, ex-Australian army officer, and his American bride have arrived in Montreal aboard a tanker which picked up them and their amphibious "duck" 270 miles east of New York.

The Carlins had not made much headway after leaving New York on August 7. A couple of weeks ago a U. S. destroyer reported them well and happy about 300 miles east of that city.

Troubles had been east winds that headed them for days, a bad propeller bearing and "minor hitches." Philosophically, they fished and took it easy, sighting a ship a day. The Azores, their first-bound port, were still beckoning but the Carlins couldn't come. Their 17-foot craft, wallowing like an oversized bathtub, just wouldn't behave.

In their dispatch from the tanker that obligingly took them aboard, duck and all, they said the life out there was pleasant, and "cheaper than Atlantic City." But they were candid enough to add this little line: "Life began to pall."

Playgrounds End Second Season Here

From various points participated on August 1st.

The peak attendance was always during the first three days of the week, with a falling off during the latter part of the week. During the days of the first portion of the week, sometimes there were nearly 200 children in attendance. Saturdays were noted as slow days. The attendance on Sunday was generally poor, despite the fact that the grounds did not open until after noon.

The athletic fields have been scenes of much activity as both softball and baseball have created much interest here during the past season.

at Woodstown and asked them to make an effort to locate Carney.

This was done on September 1.
Carney was located at the Anchor-Hocking Glass Company in Salem, N. J., where he had gotten a job.
He and his wife had been boarding in Woodstown since they disappeared from the Green home in Buckingham.

Troopers Mitchell and Aulenbach went to Salem and obtained the custody of Carney. His wife was not at home.

According to the local troopers, Carney admitted the thefts and waived extradition before Judge S.
Tusling Leap, of Salem county, N.
J., as a fugitive from justice from Pennsylvania.

State Police recovered several pieces of luggage stolen from Dr.
Green's home, and found in Carney's boarding house in Woodstown yesterday. They also recovered two of Dr. Green's suits from a tailor shop in Woodstown where they had been taken by Carney for dry-cleaning. Several pawn tickets were located at Carney's boarding house, for articles belonging to Dr. Green that had been pawned in Elizabeth, N. J.

Trooper Mitchell said that Carney admits that he has served time twice in the New Jersey State Penitentiary for larceny and attempted sick-up.

Lower Bucks County Is Dotted With Six
Airfields Near Here

Bucks county and working in other states in pest control work. Most of the dusting for lower Bucks county is carried out from here, it is stated, with three or four pilots operating two dusting 'planes. At this port planes from other counties and states are equipped with dusting apparatus, pilots coming from points as distant as Florida and North Carolina.

Both single and twin-engine 'planes are used for instruction in piloting. Four instructors are listed at the field, with a large group taking G. I. courses in flying.
Students number around 100.

Hangars at the field number 15 of various sizes. These range from the small hangars housing single 'planes to two large hangars. The turf runways measure 2800 feet in length. Sizes of planes range from single-place to a Cessna five-passenger. The Old Star Airport is a C. A. approved flying school and C. A. approved repair station.

Croydon's airport—Skyport, Inc., is situated on Second Avenue at the Delaware river. William A. Ziegler is president of Skyport, Inc. At this 57-acre field, 17 'planes are based. A sea-plane base is also located there. The field boasts a cinder runway, a half mile long.
At Skyport seven aircraft can be hangared with ease. The 'planes located there range from single-place craft to twin-engine and a five-place Cessna.

A large training program for veterans was offered there until July 1st, but this has been curtailed about 95 per cent due to government cuts. Those veterans who had signed before July 1st are permitted to continue training, however. The approval of new students is now about five per cent of what it had been. Students total about 72. At this sea and land plane operation base, the main activity is training and also operation of private planes. Being off the "beaten path" there are few passenger flights from Skyport. Charter service is available, however.

A mechanic is located at the field, also three instructors. Seven of the planes there are owned by the corporation, and the balance are privately owned. Two owners reside in Philadelphia, and the remainder in Bucks county. On a normal day as many as 40 to 50 flying hours are chalked up at Croydon.

The one field located in Bensalem township, is Buchi Field, Street and Humesville roads, Eddington. Owned by the Flying Dutchman Air Service of Philadelphia, Ernest H. Buchi is president. Mr. Buchi is a veteran of World War I. This field boasts of three turf runways, measuring 2400, 2600 and 2800 feet. The 17 planes are mostly two-place training 'planes. Ten are privately owned, and seven by the air service. Those privately owned are listed mainly in the names of Philadelphians.

Activity at the field is mainly private, pleasure flights, and pilot instruction. There is both G. I. and private course instruction. Charter trips may be taken from this field.
One full-time instructor is located at Buchi field, and when needed, other instructors are secured from the Flying Dutchman Air Service.

In addition to a large hangar there are individual T-hangers, also an office, rest rooms and 'plane servicing facilities. The field measures 2500 feet square. Week-ends are the busy time at this base, and there pilots find mechanic service.

At Lincoln Point in Falls township, is located the Morrisville Airport, which boasts of 38 'planes.
These, states Frank Pingatore, range from a single to a five-place craft, and included are two seaplanes. The sea-planes are based at Trenton, N. J., according to Mr.
Pingatore, of Yardley, who is president of Lincoln Aeronautical Corporation, which firm operates the flying field. Pingatore further states that service includes seven mechanics; one large hangar house-ing 23 'planes, and seven individual hangars on the 85 acre field. He adds that there are seven instructors for more than 400 G. I. students. "The 18 privately-owned craft are used for business and pleasure, and the remainder of the 'planes, owned by the corporation, are used for student instruction and charter flights," he states.

Owners of the 'planes are mostly from Bucks county and Trenton, N. J.

What is known as Skyhaven, is the field located at River road, near Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville.
There the Hartman Brothers operate Aero Dusters Corporation, dusting crops in this area and repairing and rebuilding airplanes.

Local barbers have held several informal meetings. It is stated, at which time they have discussed increasing the prices for the services they perform.

Philadelphia barber shops are to increase their prices for haircuts to $1 and shaves to 50 cents. It is possible that the same scale will be adopted here.

Some say that the increase in prices here will be at least ten cents but will not reach the Philadelphia scale.

Norman Hortman is the senior partner. Although most of the planes located there are owned by the operating firm, there are some in the name of individuals hang-ared at the field. One building houses the shop and office; and three hangars accommodate six planes each. Runways measure approximately 1800 and 2500 feet.
Two fighter 'planes, a Hellcat and a P-51, are there, in addition to a number of small 'planes.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Herman H. Doh
Pastor
First Baptist Church, Andalusia

Gracious God and Heavenly Father, we pray that Thou wilt impart unto Thy children the wisdom and understanding which we need as we travel thru a world of confusion and strife. May we not be turned aside by the many voices which we hear but listen to Thy voice only as we find it in Thy Word and thru Thy Spirit. Help us to remember that the eternal lessons must be learned here if we expect to enjoy the fruit of our labor in heaven. If we want to sing the songs of the redeemed in Paradise keep us mindful, our Father, that we must learn the music while we go to school with Thee here. Amen.

An old maid who was the self-appointed supervisor of village morals accused a man of being a drunkard because she had seen his car parked outside a tavern. The accused man made no comment, but the same evening parked his car outside his accuser's door and left it there all night.

2 PLAYOFF GAMES BOOKED HERE FOR THIS WEEK-END

Two games of the Bristol Suburban League playoff series will be played over the week-end holiday. The first game will be played tomorrow and the second on Labor Day afternoon. Both games will be on the Memorial Park field, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

St. Ann's is one-up on the "neighbor's series," having beaten the Democrats, 13-4, last Sunday. Should the "Saints" win both games over the holiday, the series will be over.

The defending champions scored eight runs in the first inning of last week's tilt, taking the heart right out of the Democrat players. From the first inning on, it was a well played tilt.

Paul Leighton is certain to be on the hill for the "Demies" in Sunday's game with Rob Ghannt doing the pitching on Labor Day. "Mike" Deitch will throw them in for the "Saints" on Sunday with Lt. Wilbur VanLenten pitching on Labor Day.

Leighton, during the regular season's play, beat St. Ann's in a well pitched contest and should if he is right tomorrow, the Purple and Gold will run into plenty of difficulty. The Democrats are hoping that Ghannt's arm is in shape for the Labor Day game. Ghannt, troubled with a sore arm for the past two weeks, did excellent work up a relief role last Sunday, holding St. Ann's to one run and two hits in four innings.

Deitch is unbeaten since he joined the St. Ann's staff, winning seven straight on the mound. He finished the season with eight wins and two defeats. He formerly pitched for Voltz-Texaco. VanLenten was the winning pitcher in last week's game.

Sells-Perk Farm Show Cancelled for This Year

PERKASIE, Sept. 4.—Rescinding a former action, the Sell-Perk Community Farm Show officials voted unanimously to cancel the annual exhibit this year, but definitely decided, to hold the exhibit in 1949. In fact, it was decided to hold a meeting on the last Monday in April, 1949 when plans will be set in motion for the 1949 exhibit.

A number of problems entered in the plans for this year, among which was the inability to procure the four large tents for the commercial exhibit. Annually, since the exhibits were held here an Allentown firm furnished the tents.

This year, the calendar played tricks with the program. The Allentown fair is held annually during the third full week in September while the local exhibit is held the last full week of the month. This year the dates conflict and when the committee placed its order for the tents it was told "they're all going to the Allentown Fair."

Another matter that entered into the final decision is the recently purchased tract adjoining Sell-Perk High, by the School Board.

In former years, the big tents were set up on the hockey field. Heavy stakes were driven into the turf to secure the tents and commercial exhibit in the tents, not infrequently required digging of holes and the breaking of the turf.

Within the next year the recently purchased tract, located on the Sellersville side of the high school lot, will be available for the tents and commercial exhibits, which will spare the hockey field the rough usage, it annually took for seven years.

THE STRAN-STEEL "Quonset 24"

Designed on a new principle and built with new materials, the "Quonset 24" is a really modern farm building, better for scores of uses. It is 24 feet wide, with the length extendable in sections of 12 feet . . . 24x24', 24x36', 24x48', and so on.

"Quonsets" are the only buildings that combine all-steel construction with great flexibility. Each 12-foot section can be individually equipped as desired. It may be partitioned or not; the front may be enclosed, left open or fitted with roller doors; extra sections may be added whenever required. Additional windows and walk-doors, insulation and other equipment are easily installed. This wide utility is due to a unique, fast construction method, which employs Stran-Steel available framing members and sheet steel covering that is nailed directly to them.

Inexpensive to build, easy to erect and maintain, fire-safe, the "Quonset 24" is a sound building investment. Write us for full details.

"Quonset" buildings are products of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a unit of National Steel Corporation
